About Jessica Theroux

Jessica Theroux is an artist and educator renowned for intertwining her personal journey with her artistic pursuits, including embroidery, historical research, and a deep spiritual connection to goddess figures. Through her mastery of needlework, lineart drawings, and poetic expression, she delves into the mystical realms of the feminine divine, shining a light on the power that resides within every cherished and often-overlooked creature on our planet. In a recent TedX talk, she explored the significance of love in our collective journey of (re)creating the world. Jessica lives in Calgary, Alberta, Canada.
